In this Assumptiontide, a reflection from Cardinal Cormac Murphy-O'Connor on his own pilgrimage to Lourdes:

When I think of Lourdes I think particularly of four things. The first is the sick who accompany us on pilgrimage. Their patience, gentleness in suffering and perseverance, always remind me that to be with the sick is something very precious. The sick are a hugely important part of any pilgrimage and it is for us to be near them during the few days together in Lourdes is very special.

The second matter I think of is the young people. Quite often, after a pilgrimage, mothers used to write to me and say that their young son or young daughter had somehow changed because of their visit to Lourdes. This was because they had experienced a new joy in their life, as if it were a new lung. In Lourdes young people are able to experience friendship, prayer, caring for the sick and an understanding of their faith in Jesus in a way never experienced before. They also discover that devotion to our Blessed Lady is something not strange but normal as she is there, always praying for us and leading us to a deeper understanding of her Son. It is a truly joyful experience for them.

The third aspect of Lourdes which touches me is the gift of prayer. Everywhere in Lourdes people are praying. They may be sitting at the Grotto or in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel or on the Domain, but their thoughts are with God and with His Son, Jesus. Always at the back of their minds, it seems to me, there is a deeper understanding of what it means to do God's will. Everyone knows that to do what God wants us to do will enable us to have peace and hope. Above all, Lourdes is a place of prayer and I hope and pray that this pilgrimage that we are experiencing this year will be a time of special prayer for everyone and, in particular, for the sick.

Lastly, when I think of Lourdes I also think of confession or the Sacrament of Reconciliation. I always remember, on the many pilgrimages that I have been on, how many people, and especially young people, experience the sacrament in a new way. How often have I heard simple, heartfelt confessions, expressions of sorrow for sin, but also an openness to the love of God in Jesus. Those who go to confession in Lourdes are taken up in to the love and mercy of God. All this of course happens everywhere, but in Lourdes it has a particular significance because what we are asking in our prayers is the prayer we say, I hope, every day when we pray to Mary. At the end of the Hail Mary we say those wonderful words, "Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death".

AN APPEAL

"Hello, my name is Lloyd Gashu. I am volunteering for Restless Development through ICS who help empower the youth through teaching about HIV/AIDS and supporting their livelihoods in developing countries such as Zimbabwe, that I have been selected to volunteer in. Before departing each volunteer has to raise £800 that will help other volunteers from the home country and UK take part in the programme. Through God's love and strength I am asking you to help me reach my target (no matter how small or large the donation is, every little helps). More importantly, I am asking you to pray for me and the other volunteers taking part and the communities we will be serving in. For more information please visit <http://www.justgiving.com/lloyd-gashu/>. Thank you so much and God Bless."

*Lloyd is one of our Eucharistic Ministers, he has just graduated from Manchester University and is about to embark as a volunteer on this really worthwhile project. Any help you can give would be greatly appreciated. You can drop your donation off at the Presbytery clearly marked Lloyd Gashu. Please note that all monies have to be in by 20 August. Thank you.
