Dear Friends,

“The Wisdom of God cries aloud!!” The first line from today’s first reading certainly paints a vivid picture for us, The Holy Spirit speaks to us of the joy of being present at the beginning of the world “When the Lord established the heavens I was there”. “I was beside him as his craftsman and I found a light in the Human Race”. I love the image that is conjured up (a joyful happy craftsman - a bit like St Joseph working as a carpenter in Nazareth).

God always finds delight in us, despite the painful truth that we are often less than delightful, we are often disappointing, and our human nature can be prone to hatred and selfishness and greed. Incredibly, God loves us anyway. He is a God that loves us so much he cannot contain himself. “Everything that the Father has is mine” Jesus declares in John’s Gospel, explaining that the Holy Spirit will also share that with his disciples.

God wants to share himself with us to give us all that he has. He is a God so generous that he gave himself in the flesh to suffer with us and to die for us. He is a God so generous that he continues to give us himself through the Eucharist every time we attend Mass. He is a God so generous he shares with us gifts of Wisdom, Knowledge, Counsel, Fortitude, Understanding, Piety and fear of the Lord.

We are so blessed to have a God who loves us beyond our wildest imagination. Three distinct persons of The Trinity but with limitless possibilities. He wants us to discover and celebrate these truths. He is constantly calling out to us (but not always with words). So, please take some time during the coming week to look around you and give God a chance to reveal Himself, but don't look too hard you might miss Him.

Have a blessed week,

Deacon Colin
