NOVEMBER LISTS

Available at the back of Church, please fill in and place in the basket at the foot of the altar.

The readings this Sunday remind us that all will pass away. This is both fearful, and also holds out a promise to us. Thus, the first reading states that the 'day that is coming' is one of retribution and punishment for the wicked, and yet is also 'healing' for the good. Likewise, St Paul reminds the Thessalonians to 'go on quietly working', even though some were tempted to idleness, thinking the end of the world was near. In the Gospel too, Jesus foretells the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem, and the trials of the end times.

These readings are chosen at this time of year to prepare us for Advent, the season that heralds the coming of Christ at Christmas. They are given to prepare us to let go of all that we hold dear, even life itself, in order to be ready to receive Jesus. Elsewhere, St Paul calls our bodies 'this earthly tent', and contrasts its frailty and temporal nature with our heavenly home, which lasts for ever.

However, such reassurance should also make us sensitive to the real plight of those who literally have 'no earthly home', in other words, the homeless. We should see ourselves in them, as we really are before God: we are in total need of the shelter of his love.

This February, we as a parish have the opportunity to express this solidarity and compassion when we welcome 14 homeless men to receive a night of shelter, food and company in our Parish Centre. This is our contribution to The Shelter Project Hounslow. We need volunteers to welcome our guests, and chat with them, also to cook a supper and breakfast.

If you are interested to help out in any way, or want to know more about this project, please contact or speak to one of the Parish Team.

This is a wonderful expression of our real grasp of Christmas, to receive the infant Christ who came to us as a homeless person.
